

Dupuytren's Contracture relief

Natural antioxidants
Deep Moisturising
Natural anti-inflammatory”

A unique combination of pure organic natural oils designed to moisturise, and soothe and moisturise the palm of the hand, combined with rare essential herbal oils carefully selected for their anti-inflammatory and anti-microbial properties.

The inspiration This balm was initially developed with the aim of helping women and men with Dupuytren's contracture.

The design We worked on the assumption that oils being applied to a sensitive part of the body such as the palm of the hand which already have an inflammatory process should be as pure and natural as possible and have absolutely no man made chemicals such as perfumes, parabens, or colours. We then medicated the balm with rare essential oils selected for their natural antioxidant and anti-inflammatory. Unlike, other products claiming to be natural we only used the highest grade ingredients - for example organic unrefined shea butter as opposed to simple shea butter thirty times the value, extra virgin cold pressed organic olive oil instead etc.

Uses: A high quality cream to be applied and massaged into the affected areas twice or more a day.

natureMedical Remedy was tested only on healthy volunteers, complies to European Union cosmetics standards (product license 76/768/EEC see www.keep-healthy.com):
